John Scalzi is the author of the 4 book Old Man's War series, Agent to the Stars, The God Engines, Fuzzy Nation, The Android's Dream and Your Hate Mail Will Be Graded. He has won the Hugo, the John W. Campbell Award for Best New Writer, the Romantic Times Reviewer's Choice Award (science fiction category), The Seiun, The Kurd Lasswitz and the Geffen awards (science fiction awards from Japan, Germany and Israel, respectively). He has also been commended by the Ohio State Senate for being a writer, which in his words "is kind of goofy but nice." He is also the current president of the Science Fiction and Fantasy Writers of America (SFWA) and writes the popular blog the Whatever.

Nick Mamatas is the editor of the Haikasoru imprint of Viz Media, bringing Japanese science fiction and fantasy novels to an American audience. He is the author of the Lovecraftian Beat road novel Move Under Ground, which was nominated for both the Bram Stoker and International Horror Guild awards, the Civil War ghost story Northern Gothic, also a Stoker nominee, the suburban nightmare novel Under My Roof, and over thirty short stories and hundreds of articles (some of which were collected in 3000 Miles Per Hour in Every Direction at Once). His work has appeared in Razor, Village Voice, Spex, Clamor, In These Times, Polyphony, several Disinformation and Ben Bella Books anthologies, and the books Corpse Blossoms, Poe's Lighthouse, Before & After: Stories from New York, and Short and Sweet. Nick's most recent books include the collection You Might Sleep... (November 2008); Haunted Legends, an anthology with Ellen Datlow (Tor Books 2009); and Starve Better a book on writing.
